BEARING WITNESS TO AUSCHWITZ

PROGRAM OVERVIEW

THE CURE FOR HATE EDUCATION & IMPACT PROGRAM

Helping schools build cultures of belonging, empathy & understanding

Education • Dialogue • Action · thecureforhate.com

How does hate take root? What makes young people vulnerable to prejudice, polarization and extremist thinking? And how can schools help cultivate the curiosity, compassion and courage needed to create stronger, more inclusive communities?

The Cure for Hate Project offers engaging, thought-provoking educational experiences that help students and educators explore these questions and discover their own capacity to make a difference. Built around the acclaimed documentaries The Cure for Hate: Bearing Witness to Auschwitz and Healing from Hate, our programs combine powerful personal stories, historical understanding, facilitated dialogue, and practical tools for recognizing and responding to hate. Our approach is nonpartisan, grounded in education and dialogue, and designed to meet schools where they are.

OUR PROGRAMS

FOUR WAYS TO BRING THE WORK TO YOUR SCHOOL

FILM SCREENINGS & SCHOOLWIDE ASSEMBLIES

Large-group presentations featuring documentary screenings, filmmaker conversations and facilitated town hall Q&A sessions. Ideal for school assemblies, auditoriums, special events and community-wide programming.

INTERACTIVE STUDENT WORKSHOPS

Smaller, classroom-based experiences that encourage meaningful discussion, critical thinking and personal reflection. Workshops explore issues of identity and belonging, prejudice and othering, the pathways to radicalization, digital citizenship, and the everyday choices that help prevent hate.

PROFESSIONAL DEVELOPMENT FOR EDUCATORS

Practical, engaging training that helps teachers, counsellors and school leaders recognize the dynamics of hate and polarization, navigate difficult conversations and foster cultures of belonging. Available in person and through our online professional development course for educators at course.thecureforhate.com.

CLASSROOM RESOURCES & CONTINUED LEARNING

Curriculum-aligned discussion guides, interactive exercises and our companion Cure for Hate: Handbook for Change give educators accessible tools to extend learning beyond a single screening or workshop.

FLEXIBLE PROGRAMMING

From single-period classroom workshops to half-day or full-day programs, schoolwide assemblies and educator professional development, we work with schools to develop experiences appropriate to their students, schedules and educational goals. Programs can be delivered individually or combined into a comprehensive school engagement initiative.

Scholars in Residence. For deeper, extended engagements, Tony McAleer and Peter Hutchison are available as Scholars in Residence, working with a school or community over several days, as we have done in Cleveland.

OUR APPROACH

PREVENTING HATE BEGINS NOT WITH CONDEMNATION, BUT WITH UNDERSTANDING

WHEN BELONGING IS OFFERED THROUGH FEAR

BELONGING → OTHERING → DEHUMANIZATION

THE ALTERNATIVE WE TEACH

CURIOSITY → COMPASSION → COURAGE

KEY LEARNING THEMES

IDENTITY & BELONGING	Understanding our universal need for connection and acceptance.
OTHERING & DEHUMANIZATION	Recognizing how prejudice, discrimination and hate develop and escalate.
HISTORICAL MEMORY	Connecting lessons from the Holocaust to the choices and responsibilities we face today.
DIGITAL CITIZENSHIP	Navigating misinformation, online manipulation and extremist recruitment.
CURIOSITY, COMPASSION & COURAGE	Developing the skills to engage across differences, challenge harmful narratives and take constructive action.
